Internship Report at TI Cycles of India

TI INDIA

07th Feb 2024

Introduction:

TI Cycles of India, a division of Tube Investments of India Limited (TI), is one of the leading bicycle manufacturers in the country. The company has a rich history of producing high-quality bicycles catering to diverse customer needs. As part of our academic curriculum, three students from the Department of Statistics embarked on an internship journey with TI Cycles to gain practical exposure and apply statistical techniques to real-world business problems.

Objective:

The primary objective of our internship at TI Cycles was to analyze various aspects of the company's operations using statistical tools and techniques. We aimed to provide insights and recommendations to improve efficiency, reduce costs, and enhance overall performance.

Internship Duration and Participants:

The following II B.Sc., Statistics students attended the internship from 24th January to 7th February 2023:

V. Archana [Reg.No. 222201319]

R. Selvalakshmi [Reg.No. 222201315]

M. Hemalatha [Reg.No. 222201303]

Internship Activities:

Descriptive Statistics:

We employed descriptive statistical methods to summarize key metrics such as production output, sales trends, and customer satisfaction scores.

This analysis helped us understand the current state of operations and identify areas for further investigation.

Predictive Modeling:

Utilizing regression analysis and time series forecasting techniques, we developed models to predict future demand for TI Cycles' products.

These models incorporated factors such as seasonality, promotional activities, and economic indicators to generate accurate forecasts.

Quality Control Analysis:

We conducted statistical process control (SPC) analysis to monitor and improve the quality of bicycle components during the manufacturing process.

By identifying and addressing deviations from quality standards, we aimed to reduce defects and enhance product reliability.

Customer Segmentation and Market Analysis:

Through cluster analysis and market segmentation techniques, we segmented TI Cycles' customer base into distinct groups based on demographics, preferences, and purchasing behavior.

This segmentation facilitated targeted marketing strategies and personalized customer experiences.

Key Findings and Recommendations:

Optimization of Production Schedule:

Our analysis revealed inefficiencies in the production schedule, leading to underutilization of resources during certain periods.

We recommended implementing a dynamic scheduling approach to align production with demand fluctuations, thereby reducing inventory costs and improving resource utilization.

Enhanced Quality Control Measures:

The quality control analysis identified specific process bottlenecks contributing to defects in bicycle components.

We suggested implementing proactive measures such as regular equipment maintenance and employee training to minimize defects and enhance product quality.

Strategic Pricing Strategies:

By analyzing market trends and competitor pricing, we proposed dynamic pricing strategies to maximize profitability and maintain a competitive edge in the market.

These strategies involved leveraging data-driven insights to adjust prices based on demand elasticity and customer preferences.

Conclusion:

Our internship at TI Cycles provided valuable insights into the application of statistical methods in a real-world business environment. By leveraging data analytics and statistical techniques, we were able to identify opportunities for operational improvement and strategic decision-making. We are grateful for the opportunity to contribute to TI Cycles' success and look forward to applying our learnings in future endeavors.

Acknowledgments:

We extend our sincere gratitude to TI Cycles of India for hosting us during this internship and providing us with the necessary support and resources to accomplish our objectives. We also thank our mentors and colleagues for their guidance and encouragement throughout this journey.

B.Sc. DEGREE COURSE IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

SYLLABUS WITH EFFECT FROM 2020-2021

BCE-CSC18

PRACTICAL: MINI PROJECT

(Common paper to B.Sc.Software Applications, B.Sc.Computer Science with Data Science and Computer Science with AI & B.C.A.)

III YEAR / VI SEM

OBJECTIVES:

The aim of the mini project is that the student has to understand the real time software development environment. The student should gain a thorough knowledge in the problem, he/she has selected and the language / software, he/she is using.

Project planning:

B.Sc (Computer Science / Software Application)/BCA Major Project is an involved exercise, which has to be planned well in advance. The topic should be chosen in the beginning of final year itself. Related reading training and discussions of first internal project viva voce should be completed in the first term of final year.

I Selection of the project work

Project work could be of three types.

a) Developing solution for real life problem

In this case a requirement for developing a computer-based solution already exists and the different stages of system development life cycle is to be implemented successfully. Examples are accounting software for particular organization, computerization of administrative function of an organization, web based commerce etc.

b) System Software Project

Projects based on system level implementation. An example is a Tamil language editor with spell checker, compiler design.

b) Research level project

These are projects which involve research and development and may not be as a structured and clear cut as in the above case. Examples are Tamil character recognition, neural net based speech recognizer etc. This type of projects provides more challenging opportunities to students.

II Selection of team

To meet the stated objectives, it is imperative that major project is done through a team effort. Though it would be ideal to select the team members at random and this should be strongly recommended, due to practical consideration students may also be given the choice of forming themselves into teams with three members. A team leader shall be selected. Team shall maintain the minutes of meeting of the team members and ensure that tasks have been assigned to every team member in writing. Team meeting minutes shall form a part of the project report. Even if students are doing project as groups, each one must independently take different modules of the work and must submit the report.

III Selection of Tools

No restrictions shall be placed on the students in the choice of platform/tools/languages to be utilized for their project work, though open source is strongly recommended, wherever possible. No value shall be placed on the use of tools in the evaluation of the project.

IV Project management

Head of the Department / Principal of the college should publish the list of student's project topic, internal guide and external organization and teams agreed before the end of July. Changes in this list may be permitted for valid reasons and shall be considered favorably by the Head of the department / Principal of the college any time before commencement of the project. Students should submit a fortnightly report of the progress, which could be indication of percentage of completion of the project work. The students should ideally keep a daily activity book. Team meeting should be documented and same should be submitted at the end of the project work.

V Documentation

Three copies of the project report must be submitted by each student (one for department library, one for the organization where the project is done and one for the student himself/herself). The final outer dimensions of the project report shall be 21cm X 30 cm. The color of the flap cover shall be light blue. Only hard binding should be done. The text of the report should be set in 12 pt, Times New Roman, 1.5 spaced.

Headings should be set as follows: CHAPTER HEADINGS 16 pt, Arial, Bold, All caps, Centered.

1. Section Headings 14 pt Bookman old style, Bold, Left adjusted.

1.1 Section Sub-heading 12 pt, Bookman old style.

Title of figures tables etc are done in 12 point, Times New Roman, Italics, centered.

Content of the Project should be relevant and specify particularly with reference to the work. The report should contain the requirement specification of the work, Analysis, Design, Coding, testing and Implementation strategies done.

- Organizational overview (of the client organization, where applicable)
- Description of the present system
- Limitations of the present system
- The Proposed system - Its advantages and features
- Context diagram of the proposed system
- Top level DFD of the proposed system with at least one additional level of expansion
- Program List (Sample code of major functions used)
- Files or tables (for DBMS projects) list. List of fields or attributes (for DBMS projects) in each file or table.
- Program – File table that shows the files/tables used by each program and the files are read, written to, updated, queried or reports were produced from them.
- Screen layouts for each data entry screen.
- Report formats for each report.

Some general guidelines on documentation are:

1. Certificate should be in the format: "Certified that this report titled.....is a bonafide record of the project work done by Sri/ Kum .....under our supervision and guidance, towards partial fulfillment of the requirement for award of the Degree of B.Sc Computer Science/BCA/BSc Software Applications of XXX College" with dated signature of internal guide, external guide and also Head of the Department/ College.

Greetings,

I am writing to you on behalf of the American India Foundation (AIF) to share an exciting internship opportunity that we believe would greatly benefit the students at Hindu College.

AIF's Digital Equalizer (DE) program is currently engaged in a significant initiative to reform public education in India, particularly in underperforming and under-resourced schools. Our program focuses on integrating technology into classrooms, training teachers in innovative teaching methods, and ultimately enhancing the educational experience for students across various levels of the system. Presently, we are working closely with the Tamil Nadu government and corporation schools in 8 districts, including Chennai, Thiruvallur, Kanchipuram, Chengalpattu, Tirunelveli, Coimbatore, and Madurai.

We are thrilled to offer internships at our organization to students who are passionate about education and eager to make a positive impact. This internship program presents a unique opportunity for participants to:

1. Contribute to AIF's mission of empowering students by leading educational sessions in schools under the guidance and mentorship of experienced staff members.

2. Develop valuable professional skills through structured capacity-building sessions, including areas such as case story writing, budget preparation, proposal drafting, and report writing.

3. Gain experience in event management by participating in impactful events that showcase their talent and contribute to AIF's success in empowering students.

4. Build a solid foundation for future endeavors by familiarizing themselves with impact study methodologies and documentation techniques relevant to careers in education or related sectors.

We aim to provide students with enriching experiences that align with their academic and career aspirations by collaborating with your esteemed department. We look forward to collaborating with the department.

Introduction

The American India Foundation (AIF) is a non-profit organization dedicated to accelerating social and economic change in India. As interns at AIF, we had the opportunity to contribute to their mission by focusing on social work within the government school.

Project Description

Our project aimed to bridge the digital divide for students at the government school. During our internship period from March 3rd, 2024, to March 28th, 2024, we focused on creating email accounts for the students. This initiative aimed to equip students with essential communication tools and enhance their access to online resources.

Skills Developed

While working on this project, we developed valuable skills that will benefit us in the future. These included:

DEPARTMENT OF CRIMINOLOGY
AND POLICE ADMINISTRATION
DRBCCC HINDU COLLEGE
PATTABIRAM, CHENNAI - 72.

Technical Skills: Setting up email accounts, managing online platforms, and troubleshooting technical issues.

Communication Skills: Effectively communicating with students, teachers, and AIF staff to ensure a smooth rollout of the email program.

Teamwork: Collaborating effectively with fellow interns and AIF team members to achieve project goals.

Problem-Solving: Identifying and resolving challenges that arose during the email account creation process.

Conclusion

Our internship experience at AIF was both enriching and challenging. We gained valuable insights into the workings of the non-profit sector and the importance of digital access in education. The project allowed us to develop practical skills while making a positive impact on the lives of students at the Arumbakkam government school. We are grateful for the support and guidance provided by our supervisor, Mr. Sridhar, and the entire AIF team. Their mentorship was instrumental in our growth and learning throughout the internship.

Second Session:

During the second session, comprehensive explanations regarding industrial and fire safety were delivered using models, supplemented by insights gleaned from solar projects and prototypes.

Solar Projects:

I Solar Grass Cutter

A solar grass cutter is a device powered by solar energy designed to trim or mow grass efficiently without emitting harmful emissions. It typically consists of a blade or cutting mechanism powered by an electric motor, which in turn is powered by electricity generated from

Prof.Indhra M Mandey MBA..M.Phil.. M Com..

Department of Business Administration (Shift 2)

solar panels. These solar panels harness sunlight and convert it into electricity, providing a sustainable and eco-friendly alternative to traditional gas-powered or electric grass cutters.

II Rotatable Solar Panel

Rotatable solar panels, also known as tracking solar panels, are photovoltaic modules mounted on a mechanism that allows them to follow the path of the sun throughout the day. Unlike fixed solar panels, which remain stationary and face a fixed direction, rotatable panels can adjust their orientation to maximize exposure to sunlight. This dynamic orientation increases the panels' efficiency and energy output by optimizing the angle at which they receive sunlight.

There are two main types of rotatable solar panel systems: single-axis and dual-axis trackers. Single-axis trackers rotate along one axis, typically following the sun's path from east to west throughout the day. Dual-axis trackers can rotate along two axes, allowing them to track both the sun's daily movement from east to west and its seasonal variations in elevation.

Rotatable solar panels offer several advantages over fixed panels. By continuously facing the sun, they can capture more sunlight throughout the day, leading to higher energy yields. This increased efficiency makes them particularly beneficial in locations with variable weather patterns or high levels of atmospheric haze. Additionally, rotatable panels can help reduce the overall number of panels needed to generate a given amount of electricity, making them a cost-effective option for large-scale solar installations.

Model for Industrial and Fire safety:

Industrial and fire safety measures encompass protocols, procedures, and equipment designed to prevent accidents, minimize risks, and mitigate the impact of emergencies in industrial settings. These measures include conducting risk assessments, complying with safety regulations, providing training and education, using personal protective equipment, implementing fire prevention strategies, developing emergency response plans, installing fire suppression systems, handling hazardous materials safely, and continuously improving safety procedures through audits and inspections. By prioritizing safety, industrial facilities can protect workers, property, and the environment while ensuring business continuity.

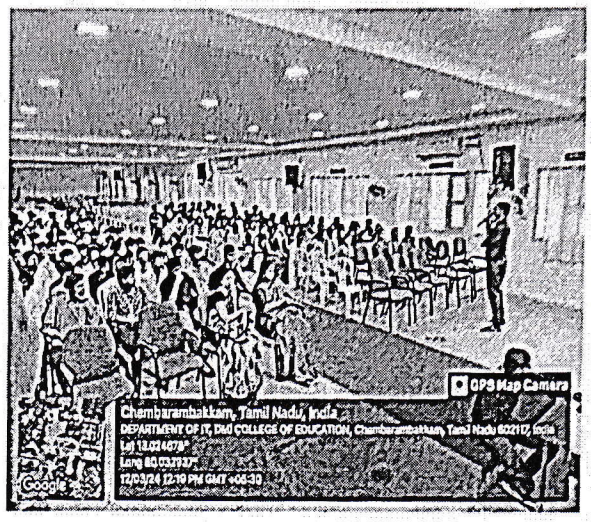
STEP-1



It's great to hear that Loyola Institute of Technology organized a seminar for information technology students. Seminars like these can be really beneficial for students to gain new knowledge and insights. Students have any specific information about what was covered. It's wonderful to hear that students benefited from learning about cybersecurity at Loyola Institute of Technology! Understanding cybersecurity is crucial in today's digital world. If you have any specific questions or topics you'd like to discuss regarding cybersecurity, feel free to ask. In today digital world, IT skills are essential for many careers. By using technology in education, students develop the skills needed for future success. Overall, information technology plays a crucial role in enhancing the educational experience and preparing students for the challenges of the future.

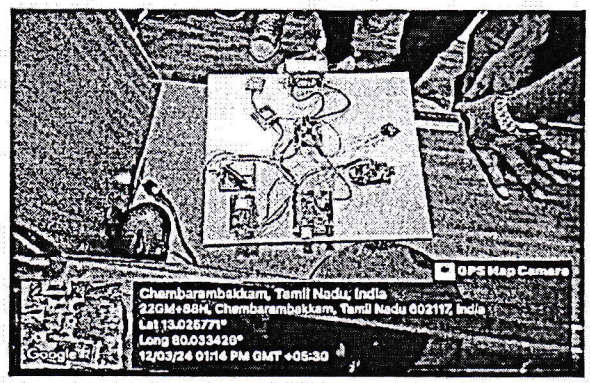
STEP-3



In a project about solar panel projects and information technology, students could learn about various protocols used in the context of solar energy systems and explain how information technology is used in monitoring, controlling, and optimizing solar panel systems. And also they explain about Bluetooth Low Energy (BLE) BLE is a low-power wireless protocol ideal for short-range communication. It could be used to connect a wearable alarm device to a parent's smartphone triggering an alert if the child moves out of a predefined range. The choice of protocol depends on factors such as the range required, power consumption, and integration with other devices or systems. It's great full opportunity to students visit and gain knowledge about protocols with our class in charge protocols are crucial in the field of technology, governing if have any specific questions or need further information about the protocols models. Students visited and gain some knowledge. Thank you for Loyola Institute of Technology.

MBA STAR SUMMIT 2023

(EDUCATIONAL VISIT)

DATE: 01.07.2023

VENUE: SAVEETHA SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT, POONAMALLEE

BATCH: 3rd YEAR

An educational visit to Saveetha School of Management on 1st July 2023 with our faculty member Asst.Prof.M.Jeevith Kumari We the final year four students of corporate department shift-2 were gone to MBA STAR SUMMIT 2023 in Saveetha School of management. There was a student of MBA (Human Resource [HR] and Marketing) were presented their research paper in the display. The coordinators of the program where issued the review mark sheet with the total mark of 20. We peer reviewed the research analysis and gave the mark. The educational visit is about Technological development, Marketing, [HR] Human Resources, and logistics. They were explained very well and clearly about their research. In spite of that we have gained more knowledge for our future reference.

Mostly all the students were done their research work in the internship of the company and took the analysis from the employee and other departments of the company. And few students have done their analysis with the public also. At the end of the program they provided the certificate for us.

The educational visit was very useful and knowledgeable. The research paper we visited in the institution was useful for our higher studies.

Industrial Visit to Infosys, Hyderabad

26/02/2024

The Department of BCOM (ISM) organized an industrial visit to Infosys, Gachibowli, Hyderabad, on February 26, 2024. A total of 34 ardent students of third-year BCOM and two faculties started an event that aimed to impart: an experience of the professional environment of the software industry, enlightenment about the work culture of the IT industry, and infrastructure and campus facilities provided by the company.

The main objective of the visit is to experience first-hand the corporate work culture, the corporate learning environment, and the services offered to global customers, as well as learn about leading-edge technologies. The visit also aimed to expose students to the practical aspects of working life and customer delivery.

The IV consisted of a session on training conducted by the HR team. The introduction was given by Mr. Nivas and Ms. Simran shared information regarding Infosys Ltd. and its recruitment process. They also shed light on current IT trends and the skills required to get hired by companies. The group gave the students explanations on conscious incompetence, unconscious competence, and unconscious incompetence. The HR department counseled students to acquire solid knowledge, strong interpersonal skills, clear communication, teamwork, efficient PowerPoint presentations, and logical decision-making abilities to succeed in their careers and adjust to corporate life.

The students were also guided about the copious career opportunities in the IT industry and the numerous IT-related roles they can explore. Success stories were shared to inspire the students. After the posed queries were answered, a tour around the Infosys campus was given to acquaint the students with the workstations and facilities.

Students enjoyed the knowledge-filled outing and thanked Infosys Management for taking their precious time out to explain them. Students especially thanked Dr. Premila Koppalakrishnan, Head of the Department who initiated and worked relentlessly to make this industrial visit memorable for all.
